

Wilderness House Literary Review 13/4

Michael Estabrook

When you have to make a choice and don't make it, that is in itself a choice. - William James (1841-1910)

College

We have choices, like whether to date Martha when your girl sends you away – different choices yield different, though not necessarily better results. But you'll never know.

Indecisive

Don't think I'd be good at making difficult decisions today like what car to buy. I couldn't decide between hot or iced coffee at Dunkin' Donuts.

Wife

Do you ever wish your life had gone differently
I wanted to ask her but decided not to because she might've answered yes.

The Devil

I'm a senior now retired but not sure I've accomplished everything I've wanted to? So pick something and do it, moron, the Devil hisses in my ear.
