

Wilderness House Press

Publication Date: June 10, 2019

Trade Hardback Edition

ISBN 97809827111590

RRP $26.00 U.S./$35.00 Can.

Binding: Cloth with dust jacket

Page Count: 274

e-book edition (available everywhere)

ISBN 9781386935292

$5.99 US ($1.99 pre-release)

books2read.com/PoplarHill

Poplar Hill was a finalist for the Chanticleer Book Reviews, Chaucer Awards for Historical Fiction.

She was cold,
she was alone,
and she knew she was going to die.

IN THE MIDDLE OF AN EPIC ICE STORM Kitty Stevenson, an eccentric old woman, self-exiled to rural Canada from New York society, realizes that she is having a heart attack. She had survived Nazi Germany – she can survive this too. Her neighbors mount a heroic effort to save her. She lives to tell her tale of self-reliance, incredible wealth, poverty, and escape on the eve of a World War. Kitty is ultimately confronted by what she perceives as a personal moral failure. In the end, she has only one story left to tell: a tale of murder. But, “It was war, damn it, it was war.”

HERE IS WHAT THEY ARE SAYING:

I AM IN AWE OF KITTY STEVENSON! Her purpose, direction, courage, and honesty are inspiring and writer Steve Glines captures her to perfection. Poplar Hill takes readers on a journey through the Depression, Nazi Germany on the eve of a World War, and an epic ice storm. It offers readers a story of a life well lived, of loss and of suffering.

Glines perfectly captures the essence and joie de vivre of Kitty, a heroine with whom everyone should get acquainted!

– Jackie Jardine Mackean
(Editor, The Pictou Advocate,
Pictou Nova Scotia)

Contact

Steve Glines
145 Foster St.
Littleton Ma 01460
(617) 549-7274
editor@iscspress.com

STEPHEN RAMEY GLINES has been a general assignment reporter and is the author of five traditionally published trade textbooks, multiple technical columns, and numerous articles. He currently edits/curates the Wilderness House Literary Review. www.whlreview.com